Annual Meeting Coming Up . . .

This the season when annual meetings are part of the regular schedule. The Municipal District of Mountain View will hold its annual show on February 21st — the financial statement for last year is already in the mails to those most concerned. The statement is accompanied by a folder signed by the reeve, Mr. Wm. Bagnall; we'd like to quote a wee bit from this folder, sounds good to us:

"The year just past has been one of the most successful this Municipal District has experienced since the formation of the large district in 1944.

"Due to the excellent construction season and ideal conditions, the Council were able to complete a wide range of public works projects in all divisions, and spent a total of $415,188.65 in this regard, of which $106,794.22 was obtained from the Provincial Government in road grants.

"For the year just ended, our operating surplus was $333,561.15, which compares to $322,388.50 a year ago.

"The District found itself in the happy position of having no outstanding bank loans as at the 31st of December, 1956, and a net bank balance of $124,347.19. The Municipal Inspector's Report also reflected this healthy condition of the Municipality."

Dief or Deaf? — That Is The Question . . .

That was one of the slogans presented to Prime Minister Diefenbaker last week by a group of striking C.B.C. television producers and helpers. In this case we hope that Dief stays deaf, if those on strike have anything to do with productions such as "Folio" and "The Plouffe Family", which have cluttered up our magic screen for these many months. We don't suggest that the instigators of the above mentioned fiasco's be executed, Cuban style, but we do think the axe should fall where it could really hurt — right through the centre of their pay cheque — severance pay that is. All agreed?

Just For The Record . . .

Didsbury and District sport fans and business firms were not found wanting when a benefit hockey game was staged here last week for the family of Mel Fredell of Carstairs, who died recently during a Chinook League hockey game. A friendly nod to the ones who arranged this very appropriate appeal; our deep sympathy to the Fredell family.

CANADA'S "BEEF BASKET"

The beef cattle business in the West last year has been a profitable one and it is hoped that the favorable trend will continue through 1958. The western prairie provinces and particularly Alberta, for many years have been in the beef cattle business on a considerable scale. The cattlemen have had their ups and downs but 1957 was a bonanza year.

The happier state of affairs came about through an expanding market for beef animals and mainly feeders, in the western United States. The large total of 540,442 beef animals that were shipped south of the border, 457,921 head were feeders. The West supplied most of the demand, only 14,259 head of the total being exported from Eastern Canada. This export business probably created an all-time record for Canadian cattlemen.

In addition to the large export of beef animals to the United States, over 200,000 head were shipped to Eastern Canada to take care of the beef deficiency in that area. Our region seems to have become the "beef basket" of Canada as well as the "bread basket." In earlier times most of the cattle marketed in the West were disposed of as grass fed. Now the general practice is to finish the animals on grain. Such produces a quality product and provides for the disposition of a considerable quantity of feed grains.

While the big ranches, in earlier years, provided most of the beef cattle which went to market, now farms are the main source of such animals. The profitable outlet in the United States in 1957 was a fortuitous happening for Alberta agriculture.

WEED SPRAYERS: I am listing below what I consider to be important features when selecting a weed sprayer. First of all let me say that "bargain price" sprayers seldom turn out to be completely satisfactory.

Boom type sprayers for average field spraying are more satisfactory than boomless sprayers. The booms should be of non-corrosive material and carried by a strong framework that can be easily folded for transport or going through gates. It is very important that there be a good range of height adjustments from a low of 24 inches to a high position of 54 inches, on the boom assembly. Nozzles should be of the type that are easily cleaned, each with an individual screen.

The pump is the heart of the unit and should have ample capacity to maintain adequate pressure, plus a reserve, to provide for by-pass agitation of the material in the tank.

You can select from three types of pumps: piston, gear or nylon roller. If you intend to use the machine for high pressure cattle spraying you will require the piston pump. Next to a good pump, one should look for an efficient and reliable filtering unit with a suitable control block and pressure regulator. The pressure regulator and gauge, along with the on-off valves, should be within easy range of the operator while he is seated on the tractor.

You can select either a tractor mount or trailer unit, whichever will best fit your budget and fill the need. For large acreages a trailer unit with at least a 200-gallon tank is a good unit. Be sure the tank is of a non-corrosive material, either aluminum or galvanized steel. We have found that with a 200 gallon tank and with 4 gallon per acre nozzles, 50 acres can be sprayed with a tankful, making a very satisfactory unit.

Last, but not least, buy your new sprayer from a dealer or company that can give you service or parts when you need them.

"Your Liberal Candidate"

The Liberals Made The Proposals

● MARCH 29th, 1957 . . .

The Liberals in the Legislature urged that monies, marked for Dividends be used for lasting benefits in the Province. The Social Credit Government rejected that proposal, but has now reversed itself and accepted the principal.

● FEBRUARY 24th, 1958 . . .

The Liberals urged the continuation of the Municipal Finance Corporation as a means of saving money for the Municipalities, but the Social Credit Government turned a deaf ear until political expediency forced a reversal of policy.

● MARCH 8th, 1957 . . .

Liberals in the Legislature urged Homes for the aged citizens as a better way of using the dividend funds, but the Social Credit Government at that point showed no interest.

● APRIL 3rd, 1957 . . .

A Liberal Motion asking that a Provincial Hospital having special value as a preferable centre to serve southern Alberta, be built at Calgary, Voted down by the Social Credit majority.

● MARCH 20th, 1958 . . .

A Liberal Motion requested the right of farmers to use purple gas in farm trucks, for the third successive year. The Social Credit Government opposed and defeated this motion each time.

Eight In One Family With Average Age Of 92 Years

A second member of the Elford family of Didsbury has passed the century milestone. On Tuesday, October 21st, 1958 Ambrose Elford followed his sister, Elizabeth Jane of Oakland over the mark of a hundred years as he celebrated his birthday in the company of seven brothers and sisters whose combined ages reach the amazing total of 724 years. That is an average of almost 92 years — a remarkable statistic in itself and when it is an average of a living family of eight it reaches the plane of the phenomenal.

A beautiful birthday cake, cards, flowers, a white boutonniere, the gift of Hick's of Lindsay, the gay company of friends and neighbours and tea served in cups and saucers at least 150 years old marked the distinguished occasion. Friends from Whistler, Papeete, London, Montreal and Fenelon Falls called to join with the family in wishing the best of everything for the centenarian, and were more than pleased to find him in excellent, spritely and very good health.

As on many, many occasions in the past he was able to recite several of his favourite poems, one, entitled "The Two Glasses", containing some 16 verses. Each one of his recitations has a splendid moral to it as befits a man whose whole life has been built around family worship, an established and never broken rule in the home.

There are sixteen children in all born to Isaac Elford and Anna Maria Werry who were married in Canada probably sometime in the late 1840's or early 1850's. They had both emigrated from Cornwall in England. Isaac, at the age of five years. The first home was established in Mariposa Township. Catherine was the first child born on the Didsbury farm. Of their 16 children, 14 lived to be more than forty years of age and among them only two married. One daughter, Sarah Ann married James Vice and one son, William Isaac married Jeanne Victoria Cunningham who died without children at an early age. Mrs. Vice is also deceased and none of her family was able to be present at the birthday party.

But if youth was absent from the party, youthful spirit was not. Each and every member of this remarkable family is bright and alert and well adapted to the increased tempo of living as evidenced by their car, a shining 1956 model, complete with automatic transmission. Ploughing is done by tractor but with the advance of years less ploughing is being attempted and more acreage turned to grassland to feed their own stock of cattle. The farm buildings, fences and property are all kept in immaculate condition and bear witness to years of hard, honest toil and thrifty, happy living. To Miss Elizabeth who is well toward 102, work is no enemy for only this summer she helped to plant, cultivate and harvest 1 1/2 acres of potatoes. She could hoe with the younger members and keep well ahead of some, and her greatest reward in so doing was the satisfaction of a good job well done. There is animation and gaiety in her face which would compliment the features of a woman half a century her junior when she hears some family member recount her industrious accomplishments.

Neighbours are glad to recall the good times enjoyed in the house when the family was younger. Plenty of games of croquet and good, clean fun enjoyed by all present drew many a young friend to this family for repeated visits. It was indeed a happy home because "there was nothing to make it unhappy", as one member said. That is nothing but the things one normally expects in life such as the early deaths of two members of the family and the sad accident suffered by the father when, at the age of 65 he suffered a kick from a horse and a tramping by the same beast which was the cause of his death.

Mrs. Elford lived to the age of 96 and even then did not reach the record of her mother who attained 99 years before passing on. She it was, Eliza Werry, who owned the china tea set of dishes in which the tea was served at the birthday party that day.

Ages of eight living members of the family are as follows: Elizabeth Jane, 102; Ambrose Henry, 94; William Isaac, 96; Mary Anna, 94; Ida Catherine, 91; Heister Maria, 88; Angelena, 83, and Charles Edwin, 80.

Six members of whom, Ellen, the eldest have passed on. They are, Ellen, Richard Thomas, Sarah Ann, Heber John, Rosetta Eva, and Adeline Grace. Two other infants were unnamed.

The following is one of the poems recited by Mr. Elford, to the delight of his guests, on his hundredth birthday.

Sometime, somewhere in the

OTTAWA REPORT

By E. M. Wooliams, M.P.

This is my first report in your newspaper this session.

In reference to the government Agricultural Program the Speech from the Throne set out two major pieces of legislation.

Firstly, there was a plan suggested to institute a system of crop insurance. To make such a program effective and to become law enabling provincial legislation is necessary. Therefore, there must be an agreement in reference to this plan between the provinces of Canada and the federal government. This was done recently to put into effect Canada's new National Health Plan.

Secondly, a revised Farm Loan Act is promised. This is long overdue. What this legislation will contain has not been known to parliament.

If any readers of this letter have any suggestions to make as to what you feel this new legislation should contain, please contact me here in Ottawa.

coming years

When the shadows have passed away.

I shall hear a voice, I shall clasp a hand

At the opening gates of day.

And faces I knew in the long ago.

Will greet me with a smile.

When I reach the land of love and song

At the end of Time's little while.

Sometime, somewhere, I shall know no more

The cares that fret and annoy.

The weary strain, the throbbing pain

The sorrows that rob of joy.

And my longing soul shall be satisfied

With joys that eternal spring

And through endless days shall live for aye

In the presence of the King.

(The above news came from the pages of the Fenelon Falls, Ont., weekly newspaper. Mrs. J. R. Cunningham of Didsbury is a sister-in-law of William Isaac Elford.)

DISTRICT NEWS

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The college was privileged in having as a guest speaker for Chapel, Rev. Spate of Olds. He came to us on Friday and stayed for the luncheon.

The college faculty spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Abe Sawatzky of the Bowden Institute staff. Mr. Sawatzky graduated from this college with Bachelor of Theology degree, and Mrs. Sawatzky received her Bible diploma also. Mr. Sawatzky is now Assistant Director of the Juvenile department of the Institute and has had a position on the staff for a number of years.

Miss Della Schlichter of Kitchen, Ontario was a campus guest over Friday night. She was in Emmanuel Bible College of the United Methodist Church there for a couple of years while Miss Eby was Dean and later became Dean of Women herself. She served the college as cook and housekeeper for nearly ten years. She has taken the position of cook in the Beulah Home, Edmonton, and stopped to visit Miss Eby on her way there. Miss Eby had members of the faculty and staff who were on the grounds for afternoon coffee in her honor on Friday afternoon.

A Day of Prayer will be observed in the College on Wednesday, February 4th. Students and faculty meet for services in the chapel on such days and all class work is set aside.

Mrs. Suder and Mrs. Finlay were guests of the Burgesses in Calgary Friday and Saturday of last week. Rev. Sanderson of the Temperance Forces of Alberta was guest speaker in chapel last Monday.

A group of students went to Champion for services in the United Brethren Church, over the weekend.

It was with deep regret and sorrow that the college received news last week of the death of Mrs. Donald Kagey, wife of the youngest son of Mrs. Marie Kagey. Mrs. M. Kagey was Dean of Women here for several years. Mrs. D. Kagey was thrown from the car as it skidded and was killed instantly. She leaves a daughter of a few months old, and her husband who was just discharged from the American navy. We are sure that all who knew Mrs. Kagey Sr. will sorrow with her and her son in this untimely loss. Should any friends desire her address it may be secured from the college office at any time.

This coming week senior and faculty will be entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stauffer. This is always a great privilege and we appreciate these kind friends who do this for us each year.

DID YOU REALIZE...
A bad habit is like a soft bed — easy to get into but hard to get out of.

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD FULCHER
District Agriculturist

The farmstead is the show window of the farm, the house and its surroundings is home. This area is highly capitalized with the buildings, livestock, corrals and equipment. In addition to this it is the area where many of hours are spent in doing the chores associated with the farming operation.

The farmstead plan must therefore be well planned to provide beauty, safety, efficiency and yet be practical to fit the farming enterprise it serves.

The overall plan should provide home, garden, livestock, machinery as well as working and storage areas. This whole area will enclose approximately ten acres depending on size of operations, when enclosed by a shelterbelt protection and beauty are provided.

The home should be towards the road and provide a view of both the road way and the farmstead. The garden and poultry areas should be located near the home. An open area between the farm buildings and the home will provide space for movement of machinery, deliveries to farm, etc., garage and workshop can be located here.

The barns should be so located that stock have access to water and pasture, and yet allow you to enter through the barn doors directly from an area where stock do not travel. There must be space provided for storage of feed, this will be closely associated with the barns and corrals.

The storage area for machinery is important as equipment represents a high capital investment. do not allow machinery and livestock together as machinery will be damaged and livestock injured.

If it is a new farmstead or a re-modelling of an old farmstead, plan it well before commencing any major construction. Only by careful consideration of all features will you obtain the efficient farmstead you require.

THE Homemaker

By HELEN HOWARD
District Home Economist

Dear Homemakers:

Do textile terms have you in a turmoil? Little wonder when there are so many new fabrics and finishes on the market! Perhaps this dictionary of textile terms will help you know what you are buying. Clip this column out and carry it in your purse.

1. ACRILAN or VEREL (Another trade name for the same fibre) is a washable, drip-dry, strong, shrink resistant synthetic used for suits, dresses, childrens wear, knitting yarns and upholstery.

2. ARNEL — a new fabric that is machine washable, quick drying needs little ironing, no shrinkage or stretching, permanent pleats, and will not pill. Used for all wearing apparel — childrens, men's and women's. LYLAN, TRICEL and COMPLETA are other trade names for the same fabric.

3. CELAPERM, or COLORAY or CHROMSPUN are all names for completely color-fast acetate and rayon materials. Acetate and rayon are hard to dye by ordinary methods so for colorfastness the dye is added to the spinning solution before the fibres harden.

4. COLORFAST — a term which means there is no noticeable loss of color through washing and wear.

5. DACRON or TERYLENE — are two names for the same material which boasts superior strength, is washable, drip-dry, wrinkle resistant and is very good for wearing apparel, knitting yarns and sewing thread.

6. DISCIPLINED COTTON, DRIP-DRY or WASH AND WEAR are all terms for a fabric which has been treated so that it can be washed and worn with little or no ironing. The fabric may be:

(a) Cotton with a resin finish.
(b) A Man-Made fibre (e.g. dacron, orlon, arnel, etc.)
(c) A blend of cotton and one of these synthetic fibres.

Wash in water that is warm but not too hot. Unless label states you can, never use a chlorine bleach, water that has been treated with chlorine, or a soap that contains such a bleach as this destroys the drip dry quality and produces a yellow color.

Dry in an automatic dryer, or hang, without wringing, on a wooden hanger and allow to drip dry.

7. EVERGLAZE — a fabric treated with special resins, heat and pressure to give a crease-resistant fabric that has a shiny surface usually durable to laundering.

8. PORTISAN — is a super-strong washable material which is resistant to sunlight and has good draping qualities which make it excellent for curtains and draperies.

9. LUREX — trade name for a non-fading metallic yarn (gold or silver) which is washable and dye cleanable.

10. MERCERIZED — a cotton material or sewing thread which has been treated with caustic soda to make it stronger, more lustrous, more absorbent and easier to dye. Always be sure that the cotton thread that you buy is "Mercerized."

In next week's column, ladies, I will give you some more textile terms that are commonly found on your ready-made or dry goods labels.

Meanwhile, write to me Helen Howard, District Home Economist, Olds, Alberta, for free pamphlet "The New Fabrics" which you will find contains helpful information regarding the characteristics, use and care of the new fabrics.
